

COMMUNICATION IS THE KEY

KÜÇÜKKUYU FERNUR SÖZEN ORTAOKULU

ÇANAKKALE/TURKEY, 2017

“Funded by the Erasmus+ Program of the European Union. However, European Commission and Turkish National Agency cannot be held responsible for any use which may be made of the information contained therein”

What We Must Not Do in Relation to Human Rights

Right to respect: We must not disrespect anyone because of their distinction of kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other.

Right to dignity: We must not humiliate others or social origin, property, birth or other status.

Right to an opinion: We must learn to accept different opinions without becoming aggressive

Right to culture and religion: We must not mock or try to impose beliefs on others

Right to safety: We must not threaten or hurt other people

Right to property: We must not steal from people

Right to speech: We must learn to dialogue

Right to innocence: We must not see a person as a criminal until proved guilty according to law.

Right to be equal: We must realize that everyone is equal before the law.

Right to privacy: We must not interfere with anyone's privacy, family, home or correspondence.

Right to freedom: We must not deprive other people of freedom.

Right to education: We must avoid behaviors that prevent other students from learning in school and in classroom.

HUMAN RIGHTS

Adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations in 1948, the Universal Declaration states basic rights and fundamental freedoms to which all human beings are entitled.

All human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights.

Everyone is entitled to all the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration, without distinction of any kind, such as race, colour, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.

Everyone has the right to life, liberty and security of person.

Nobody has any right to make us a slave. We cannot make anyone else our slave.

All are equal before the law and are entitled without any discrimination to equal protection of the law.

No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

You have the right to seek legal help if your rights are violated.

Nobody has the right to wrongly imprison you or force you to leave your country.

If you are put on trial, you have a right to a fair and public trial.

Everyone is innocent until proven guilty.

Nobody should try to harm our good name. Nobody has the right to come into our home, open our letters, or bother us, or our family, without a good reason.

We all have the right to go where we want to in our own country and to travel abroad as we wish. You can travel wherever you want.

Everyone has the right to a nationality. No one shall be arbitrarily deprived of his nationality nor denied the right to change his nationality.

Every grown up has the right to marry and have a family if they want to. Men and women have the same rights when they are married and when they are separated.

Everyone has the right to own property alone as well as in association with others.

We all have the right to believe in what we want to believe, to have a religion or to change it if we wish.

Everyone has the right to freedom of opinion and expression; this right includes freedom to hold opinions without interference and to seek, receive and impart information and ideas through any media and regardless of frontiers.

Everyone has the right to freedom of peaceful assembly and association.

We all have the right to take part in the government of our country. Every grown up should be allowed to vote to choose their own leaders.

You have the right to social security and are entitled to economic, social and cultural help from your government.

Every grown up has the right to a job, to a fair wage for their work and to join a trade union.

Everyone has the right to rest and leisure, including reasonable limitation of working hours and periodic holidays with pay.

We all have the right to enough food, clothing, housing and health care. Mothers and children and people who are old, unemployed or disabled have the right to be cared for.

Everyone has the right to education. Education shall be free, at least in the elementary and fundamental stages. Elementary education shall be compulsory.

Everyone has the right freely to participate in the cultural life of the community, to enjoy the arts and to share in scientific advancement and its benefits.

Everyone is entitled to a social and international order in which the rights and freedoms set forth in this Declaration can be fully realized.

Everyone has duties to the community in which alone the free and full development of his personality is possible. We have a duty to other people and we should protect their rights and freedoms.

